Under the Patronage of

H.H. Sheikh Mansour Bin Zayed Al Nahyan

Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Presidential Affairs of the UAE

Welcome to Abu Dhabi

The Expo-Sciences International (ESI) 2013 is the largest event in UAE focusing exclusively on the scientific creativity of young aspirant scientists from all over the world.

ESI is an initiative of the International Movement for Leisure Activities in Science and Technology (MILSET), a non-governmental, non-profit and politically independent youth organization, which aims at developing scientific culture among young people through the organization of science-and-technology programs.

Under the patronage of H.H. Sheikh Mansour Bin Zayed Al-Nahyan, Deputy Prime Minister of the UAE, Minister of Presidential Affairs, the Abu Dhabi Centre for Technical and Vocational Education and Training (ACTVET) has the great pleasure to host and, together with MILSET, organize the 14th edition of the Expo-Sciences International that takes place from 15th to 17th September 2013, at the Abu Dhabi National Exhibition Centre (ADNEC).

We are pleased to welcome all of you, young aspirant scientists, in the capital city of the United Arab Emirates, Abu Dhabi.

This is a unique chance for all of you to exchange ideas and compare scientific projects fostering networking and international collaboration. At the same time to explore our country and be amazed by our attractions during your stay.

Hosting the Expo-Sciences International 2013 in Abu Dhabi represents to us a great opportunity of bringing together the bright minds of hundreds of youths like you, sharing the common interest of adding a little but valuable contribution to scientific innovation. We are truly committed to further fuel your ambitions by creating a global hub to promote science and research that may represent the stepping stone for future recognized scientists.

So...Let's spread the passion for science and together contribute to the development of a scientific culture amongst the citizens-adults of tomorrow.

We wish you a great experience in Abu Dhabi.

The Abu Dhabi Centre for Technical and Vocational Education and Training (ACTVET)

was created by the Abu Dhabi Executive Council in 2010 to preside over technical and vocational training in the emirate. ACTVET is committed to establishing policies and standards that effectively regulate technical and vocational educational institutions in the emirate of Abu Dhabi. Our goal is to increase the number of skilled young Emiratis employed in rewarding positions, with opportunities for life-long learning and personal development. In addition to regulating technical and vocational educational institutions, ACTVET is also responsible for the licensing of trainers and tutors that meet the demands of the UAE's local market. It does this by: providing guidance and assistance to the Abu Dhabi government and private institutions on technical and vocational education and training; undertaking original educational research in coordination with Abu Dhabi Education Council; and developing strategies and mutually beneficial partnerships with public and private education companies and bodies, as well as with training institutes. ACTVET was initiated by H.H General Sheikh Mohammed bin Zayed Al Nahyan, Crown Prince of Abu Dhabi, Deputy Supreme Commander of the UAE Armed Forces and Chairman of the Executive Council, under Resolution No. 49/2010 (August 2010).

The International Movement for Leisure Activities in Science and Technology (MILSET Movement International pour le Loisir Scientifique et Technique)

is a non-governmental, non-profit and politically independent youth organization, which aims at developing scientific culture among young people through the organization of science-and-technology programs, including science fairs, science camps, congresses and others activities of high quality.

MILSET was created during ESI 87, the first International Science Fair held in Québec in 1987. Then, due to its constant growth, various Regional Offices were progressively established in Latin America, Africa, Asia, Europe and North America.

MILSET is an official partner of UNESCO

IPIC is the International Petroleum Investment Company, formed by the Abu Dhabi government in 1984 to invest in the energy and related sectors across the globe. Today it manages a portfolio of investments in more than 15 leading companies across the hydrocarbon value chain, including exploration and production, shipping and pipelines, downstream retail and marketing, petrochemicals, power and utilities as well as industrial services.

The company was created by the late H.H. Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan Al Nahyan, founder and first President of the United Arab Emirates, to advance his vision of using Abu Dhabi's natural petroleum wealth to build a modern, diversified economy for the benefit of future generations.

With almost 30 years' experience, IPIC leverages its investments in order to enhance the overall performance of its portfolio under the leadership of its Chairman, H.H. Sheikh Mansour bin Zayed Al Nahyan, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Presidential Affairs. The synergy within that portfolio and the mutually beneficial relationships with partners around the world are essential to the success of the company, which has grown four-fold since the end of 2006. IPIC has become a global enterprise, but it remains true to its founding goal of the betterment of Abu Dhabi's people and, literally, Empowering Our Future.

LEISURE PROGRAM

The ESI2013 offers you a wide variety of tourist sites and activities in and around Abu Dhabi that give you the chance to explore the extraordinary heritage of UAE and also visit the main attractions of our country.

The United Arab Emirates (UAE) has emerged as one of the popular tourist destinations in the world, offering visitors interesting sightseeing and recreational opportunities. Sightseeing in the UAE includes a visit to ancient archaeological sites, historical landmarks, museums, mosques, traditional houses, as well as artificial islands, sand dunes, beaches and world-class theme parks. Almost all seven emirates have some interesting sightseeing opportunities to offer to visitors.

Sheikh Zayed Mosque

The majestic Sheikh Zayed Grand Mosque is probably the most imposing religious and national landmark in Abu Dhabi to date. It is also one of the most important architectural treasures of contemporary UAE society. It was initiated by the late UAE President and Ruler of Abu Dhabi HH Sheikh Zayed Bin Sultan Al Nahyan and can house more than 40,000 worshippers.

The Late Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan Al-Nahyan “May God rest his Soul” founded this great landmark, featuring four minarets and eighty-two domes, representing different Islamic styles, in support of noble Islamic cultural values, and to express its genuine religious concepts and values. The mosque accommodates more than 40,000 worshippers; 10,000 in the internal areas and 30,000 in the external areas.

Masdar Institute

Masdar Institute of Science and Technology is the world's first graduate-level university dedicated to providing real-world solutions to issues of sustainability. The Institute's goal is to become a world-class research-driven graduate-level university, focusing on advanced energy and sustainable technologies.

Located in the Masdar Institute of Science and Technology is the world's first graduate-level university dedicated to providing real-world solutions to issues of sustainability. The Institute's goal is to become a world-class research-driven graduate-level university, focusing on advanced energy and sustainable technologies.

Masdar City is a modern Arabian city that, like its forerunners, is in tune with its surroundings. As such, it is a model for sustainable urban development regionally and globally, seeking to be a commercially viable development that delivers the highest quality living and working environment with the lowest possible ecological footprint. The Masdar Institute campus is an embodiment of those ideals, powered by renewable energy and supported by the cutting edge of technology, providing students with a unique opportunity to live and learn in a true "living laboratory" environment. City in Abu Dhabi, the capital of the United Arab Emirates, Masdar Institute aims to support Abu Dhabi's economic diversification by nurturing highly-skilled human and intellectual capital and partnering with industry leaders. This will help the Emirate in its transformation to a knowledge-based economy and enhance its position as a leader in global energy.

Petroleum Institute

The Petroleum Institute University and Research Center (PI) was established in Abu Dhabi, capital of the United Arab Emirates in 2001 with a goal of becoming a world-class institution in both engineering education and energy industry research. The Petroleum Institute provide high quality engineering and science professionals through a continued commitment to excellence in its undergraduate and graduate academic programs alongside fundamental and applied research serving the Oil, Gas and Energy sectors' need for talent, solutions and advanced technical innovations that contribute to the UAE society and economy.

The modern research university has a dual mission: to educate its students, and to discover new knowledge through scholarship. These two missions enhance and inform one another: students at a research university in many instances are taught by the discoverers of the information. Explore the various research centers and facilities.

Did you know....

- Nuclear energy is one of the cleanest energy sources available today – operating nuclear energy plants generate large volumes of electricity 24 hours a day, 365 days a year and produce almost zero carbon emissions
- Radiation is the term used for energy in motion. There are many natural sources of radiation that we live with safely every day, such as cosmic radiation from the sun. Uranium, one of many naturally radioactive elements, comes from rocks. The radiation from the nuclear energy industry contributes to less than 1 percent of the radiation we receive from other sources.
- Nuclear reactors are state-of-the-art facilities, designed and built to contain radiation. They are a safe workplace for hundreds of staff. If you stood at the site boundary for a whole year, you would receive less than:
  - i. a quarter of the radiation you would receive from a chest x-ray
  - ii. a third of the radiation you would receive on a flight from Paris to New York

Join our "Understanding Radiation" Workshop

Presented by ENEC's Emirati engineers and ambassadors of our Energy Pioneers program, which aims to attract and train the country's top talent in science and engineering
11:00 am & 4:00 pm every day

ABU DHABI VISITORS GUIDE

Weather

This is a destination with almost year round sunshine, little rainfall and near perfect winter temperatures. Abu Dhabi has a sub-tropical, arid climate. Sunny blue skies and high temperatures can be expected most of the year. Rainfall is sporadic, falling mainly in winter (November to March) and averaging 12 cms per year in most of the emirate. Rain is more common in the «Oasis City» of Al Ain, the emirate's second largest city, due to its proximity to the Hajar mountains.

Temperatures range from a low of around 13C (50F) on a winter's night, to a high of around 42C (118F) on a summer's day.

What To Wear

Lightweight summer clothing is suitable for most of the year, but something slightly warmer may be needed for the winter months. Be sure to take some sort of jacket or sweater when visiting hotels or the cinema, as the air conditioning can be fierce.

Although the attitude towards dress is fairly liberal throughout the Emirates, a healthy amount of respect for local customs doesn't go amiss, especially when shopping or sightseeing. Short or tight clothing may be worn, but it will attract attention - most of it unwelcome. Malls, health clubs and resort facilities are generally more accepting of what's fashionable, but when visiting government offices it is best to cover your shoulders and legs.

In the evenings, restaurants and clubs usually have a mixt of western, Arabic and Asian styles. Again, ladies are advised to take a pashmina or jacket because of cold air conditioning.

Population

Abu Dhabi is the largest and most populated of the seven emirates that make up the United Arab Emirates, with over 80% of its landmass. The emirate's population, now over 1.6 million, is expected to reach 3 million by 2030. Across the UAE, Emirati citizens make up nearly 20% of the total population; the other 80% are expatriates from Asia, Africa, Australia, Europe and North America.

Local time

The UAE is four hours ahead of UTC (Co-ordinated Universal Time - formerly known as GMT) and there is no daylight saving. Hence, when it is 12.00 midday in Abu Dhabi, it is 3am in New York, 8am in London, 10 am in Johannesburg, 1.30pm in New Delhi, and 6pm in Sydney (not allowing for any summer time saving in those countries).

Local Culture

The combination of international influences and a strong commitment to local heritage has created an intriguing mix of new and old.

Abu Dhabi's culture is firmly rooted in Arabia's Islamic traditions. Islam is more than a religion; it is a way of life that governs everyday events from what to wear to what to eat and drink. The UAE's culture and heritage is inextricably linked to its religion, and it is a shining example of Islam's true commitment to tolerance and hospitality. Foreigners are free to practice their own religion and the dress code is liberal. Women are able to drive and walk around unescorted. Among the most highly prized virtues are courtesy and hospitality, and visitors are sure to be charmed by the genuine friendliness of the people. Despite the speed of economic development over the last 30 years, Abu Dhabi continues to promote traditional cultural and sporting events, such as falconry, camel racing and traditional dhow sailing.

National Dress

UAE nationals usually wear traditional dress in public. For men, this is the kandura - a white full length shirt-like garment, which is worn with a white or red checkered headdress, known as a ghutra. This is secured with a black cord (agal).

Sheikhs and important businessmen may also wear a thin, gold-trimmed robe (bisht) over their kandura at important events. In public, women wear a long, loose black robe (abaya) that covers their normal clothes - plus a headscarf (sheyla). The abaya is often of very sheer, flowing fabric with intricate embroidery and beadwork along the wrists and hemline. Sheylas are also becoming more elaborate and a statement of individuality, particularly among the young. Headwear varies with some women wearing a thin black veil covering their face and others, generally older women, wearing a leather veil (burka), which covers the nose, brow, cheekbones and lips.

DRESS CODE

Abu Dhabi is a modern metropolis where designer fashion brands are plenty in the shops and malls, but the occasions where they are worn needs to be appropriate.

Abu Dhabi has a dress code based on respect for the culture and religion of the UAE. It is not hard to follow and will make your visit/ stay here a more pleasant one and will help you avoid causing any of the many nationalities here any offence. Short, revealing or tight clothing is considered disrespectful. Residents and visitors are advised to respect the Emirati culture and customs by not wearing excessively revealing clothing in public places. It is disrespectful for men and women to uncover shoulders and knees when in public. Tight or revealing tops and short skirts or dresses are not advised. Beachwear is acceptable at beach clubs, hotels and public beaches but swimmers should avoid excessively revealing swimming suits. On the beach, a normal bathing suit or bikini is fine, but avoids thong bikini bottoms or topless sunbathing as this is considered indecent.

Here's an explanation of what to and what not to do...

1. Public places the dress code applies to includes malls, markets, cinemas, on the street, on the road in your car, super markets, public areas of hotels etc.
2. You can wear what you want in your home.
3. Round pools or at the beach bikinis or swimsuits must be worn- topless bathing is not allowed and it's best not to wear thong type bottoms.
4. A common problem seems to be when people come from the beach or pool and go to a shop or mall still wearing swimwear e.g. a bikini top with shorts, a bikini with a short or see through cover up over, a wet swimsuit under clothing that then makes the clothing see through, a see through sarong worn over a swimsuit or bikini. This is not acceptable- so make sure you get fully redressed after being by the pool or sea.

5. Underwear should be covered at all times- no briefs, g- strings, bras etc on show or viewable through fabric.

Rules For Men

1. Bare chests are not allowed in public
2. Shorts should be to the knee
3. Swimwear should not be worn away from a pool or beach e.g. don't walk down the street in your trunks

Photography

While normal tourist photography is acceptable, it is polite to ask permission before taking photos of people, particularly women. Photographs of government buildings, military installations and ports and airports should not be taken. Also, cameras may be banned in public areas designated for women and children only.

Currency

The local currency is the UAE dirham (AED or Dhs) which is divided into 100 fils and is pegged against the US $ (US$ 1: AED 3.6725).

Credit and debit cards are widely accepted. Foreign currencies and travellers' cheques can be exchanged in licenced exchange offices, banks and hotels, a passport is required. Personal cheques can be a bit trickier and many places won't accept them. If you're shopping in the souks (markets) or in smaller shops, cash is the best option.
